Overview of Cloud Kitchens

A cloud kitchen, or virtual kitchen, is a kitchen that is used to provide meals for online delivery only and acts as the production center for meals ordered through delivery apps. Just Kitchen’s business model is designed to increase the efficiency of the typical cloud kitchen infrastructure by having a main “hub” kitchen where the meals are pre-prepared, blast chilled and then sent to the “spoke” kitchens, which finish the meals for delivery. The smaller spokes complement the main hub and are located in high traffic areas extending the geographical reach of the Company’s customer base, reducing preparation and delivery times, and thereby improving the quality and consistency of customer orders.

Cloud kitchens can be considered food manufacturing factories, where food and meals are manufactured and then shipped to the final consumer. Considering cloud kitchens as factories as opposed to restaurants shifts the paradigm to one in which the manufacturer is focused on providing quality consistent output at the lowest possible cost without worrying about how or where the product is consumed by the consumer, and thus removing the key constraint posed by their physical location.

Cloud kitchens offer the following advantages over traditional restaurants:

1. Low operational cost. One of the expenses to consider for traditional restaurants is real estate, which generally accounts for approximately 10% of restaurant expenses. This cost can be decreased by cloud kitchens, as they can operate from locations with less expensive real estate, occupy less space as there is no restaurant associated with the kitchen, and save on front of house staff and marketing costs among other items. Cloud kitchens also manufacture standardized items, which further reduces cost and food spoilage.
2. Low set up and introduction cost. Cloud kitchens can be established, introduce new products and alter their menus at a considerably lower cost and can thus experiment with new ideas and menu items in a quick and cost-effective manner.
3. Automation. With a focus on limited menus and limited items, product manufacturing can be standardized in cloud kitchens as it would be in manufacturing.
4. Increased efficiency. Using custom built spaces and optimizing processes specifically for delivery allow cloud kitchens to run efficiently. Ingredients can be batch prepared for several different menu items and brands concurrently, and kitchens can be designed to prioritize the speed of preparation and the process of handing over meals to delivery drivers.
5. Digital brand awareness without high marketing spend. Cloud kitchen brands can gain quick exposure through delivery apps without incurring the high cost of marketing that typical restaurants incur.

6. Access to user data and real-time adaptability. Cloud kitchens are designed with a technological focus, which means that they are well-suited to optimize processes, ordering and staff scheduling based on consumer behavior. The menu can be changed, altered and adapted easily to suit demand and increase margins all based on the data collected from consumers.

The driving factors for the cloud kitchen market are the growing acceptance of online food distribution services, reducing the need for physical infrastructure and equipment, rising living and urbanization standards, and introductory low cost.

The Company continues to open new kitchen locations in Taiwan, Hong Kong, Singapore and Philippines, and it is also planning expanding operations into other countries. These new capital investments are expected to positively impact the Company’s revenue and operating cash flow in future periods.

The Company’s objective when managing capital is to maximize returns for shareholders and to maintain an optimal capital structure to reduce the cost of capital. The Company is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements. In managing the Company’s capital structure, the Company’s management reviews monthly and quarterly financial information and provides regular reports to the board of directors.

Going Concern

These condensed consolidated interim financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which assumes that the Company will be able to meet its commitments, realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. As at March 31, 2022, the Company is still in the process of building its business, opening new virtual kitchens, and building its brand and customer base. The Company’s continuation as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to achieve profitable operations and raise additional financing through issuing equity or debt to meet current and future obligations. In assessing whether the going concern assumption is appropriate and whether there are material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern, management considers all available information about the future which is at least, but not limited to, twelve months from the end of the reporting period.

As at March 31, 2022, the Company had a working capital of $9,249,868, an accumulated deficit of $22,772,021 and for the six months ended March 31, 2022, the Company incurred a net loss of $9,013,760, and net cash outflows from operations of $7,335,034. Although the Company has previously been successful in obtaining financing in the past, there is no assurance that it will be able to obtain adequate financing in the future or that such financing will be on terms acceptable to the Company. These conditions indicate a material uncertainty that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

Should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern, the net realizable value of its assets may be materially less than the amounts on its condensed consolidated interim statement of financial position.

Critical Accounting Estimates and Use of Judgment

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates, assumptions and judgments that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses. These estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgments about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the review affects both current and future periods.

Significant estimates and judgments made by management that have a significant effect on the amounts recognized in these consolidated financial statements are as follows:

Impairment of non-financial assets

Management is required to use judgment in determining the grouping of assets to identify their cash generating units ("CGUs") for the purposes of testing fixed assets for impairment. In addition, judgment is used to determine whether a triggering event has occurred requiring an impairment test to be completed for fixed asset and definite life intangible assets.

The recoverable amounts of CGUs and individual assets is required to be determined based on the higher of fair value less costs to sell or value-in-use calculations. The key assumptions the Company uses in estimating future cash flows for recoverable amounts are anticipated residual value of equipment, expected financing revenue from leasing of the equipment and future operating and financing costs. Changes to these assumptions will affect the recoverable amounts of CGUs and individual assets and may then require a material adjustment to their related carrying value.

Leases

The Company has to make certain assumptions in estimating the present value of future lease payments and the estimated useful lives of the related assets. Key assumption includes the determination of discount rates.

In determining the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset and corresponding lease liabilities, the Company is required to estimate the incremental borrowing rate specific to each portfolio of leased assets with similar characteristics if the interest rate in the lease is not readily determined. Management determines the incremental borrowing rate using comparable interest rates that would be obtained if a financing was obtained from an independent financial institution to finance acquisition of a similar type of assets.

Stock-based compensation

The accounting for stock-based compensation requires management to make an estimate of the fair value of the stock-based compensation when granted based on the share price of the Company at the time of the grant as well as estimate around volatility, risk-free interest rates, and the probability of achieving certain vesting conditions.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Interests in Equity-Accounted Investees

Interests in equity-accounted investees comprise of interests in joint ventures. A joint venture is an arrangement in which the Company has joint control, whereby the Company has the right to the net assets of the joint venture arrangement, rather than rights to its assets and obligations for its liabilities. Interests in the joint ventures are accounted for using the equity method. They are initially recognized at cost. Subsequent to initial recognition, the Company records its share of profit or loss and other comprehensive income of equity-accounted investees, until the date on which significant influence or joint control ceases.

Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

There were no new accounting pronouncements adopted since September 30, 2021 that would have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

New Accounting Pronouncements Not Yet Effective

A number of new standards, and amendments to standards and interpretations, are not yet effective for the year ended September 30, 2021 and have not been applied in preparing these consolidated financial statements. Pronouncements that are irrelevant or not expected to have a significant impact have as been excluded.

Amendments to IAS 1

This amendment clarifies the requirements relating to determining if a liability should be presented as current or non-current in the statement of financial position. Under the new requirement, the assessment of whether a liability is presented as current or non-current is based on the contractual arrangements in place as at the reporting date and does not impact the amount or timing of recognition. The amendment applies retrospectively for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2022. The Company is currently evaluating the potential impact of these amendments on the Company's condensed consolidated interim financial statements.

Financial Instruments and Other Instruments

As March 31, 2022, the Company's financial instruments consist of cash, accounts receivable, refundable deposits, accounts payable and promissory notes payable. The fair value of cash, accounts receivable, refundable deposits, accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their respective carrying values due to their short-term maturities. The fair value of promissory notes payable is equal to the carrying value because the underlying market rate did not change.

The Company's risk exposures and the impact on its financial instruments are summarized below:

Credit Risk – Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will fail to fulfill an obligation and cause the other party to incur a financial loss. The Company's credit risk consists primarily of cash and accounts receivable. The credit risk is minimized by placing cash with large Canadian, Taiwanese and Hong Kong financial institutions. Credit risk is managed through dealing with financially strong counterparties and regular cash collections. The Company's maximum exposure to credit risk is limited to the accounts receivable recognized on the consolidated statement of financial position.

As of March 31, 2022, the Company had a receivable of $369,038 from three customers representing 68% of total trade receivables. As of September 30, 2021, the Company had a receivable of $314,022 from three customers representing 66% of total trade receivables.

Currency Risk – The operating results and financial position of the Company are reported in Canadian dollars. As the Company's main operations are conducted in Taiwan through JK Taiwan using its functional currency, the New Taiwanese dollar ("NTD"), in Hong Kong through JKHK using its functional currency, Hong Kong dollar ("HKD"), in Singapore through JKSG using its functional currency, Singapore dollar ("SGD") and in the Philippines through JKP using its functional currency, Philippine peso ("PHP"), the Company is exposed to foreign currency transaction and translation risks. Assets and liabilities are translated based on the Company's foreign currency translation policy.

As at March 31, 2022 and for the period then ended, a 10% decrease in the value of the Taiwanese dollar in relation to the Canadian dollar would have decreased net assets by approximately $154,637 and would have decreased net loss of the Company by approximately $600,542. A 10% decrease in the value of the Hong Kong dollar in relation to the Canadian dollar would have decreased net assets by approximately $43,290 and would have decreased net loss of the Company by approximately $47,553. A 10% decrease in the value of the Singapore dollar in relation to the Canadian dollar would have decreased net assets by approximately $22,122 and would have decreased net loss of the Company by approximately $2,332. A 10% decrease in the value of the Philippine peso in relation to the Canadian dollar would have decreased net assets by approximately $11,368 and would have decreased net loss of the Company by approximately $1,280. The Company has not entered into any hedging agreements to mitigate currency risks with respect to foreign exchange rates.

Liquidity Risk – Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations when they become due if additional capital is not available to the Company when required. To mitigate this risk, the Company has a planning and budgeting process in place to determine the funds required to support its ongoing operations, lease and promissory notes payable, and capital expenditures. The Company ensures that sufficient funds are raised from debt or equity financings to meet its operating requirements, after taking into account its existing working capital and expected future revenues. The Company's cash is held with major financial institutions. The Company's cash is not invested in any asset backed deposits or investments.
